

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Berry Fowler
Chairman
Fowler International Academy of Professional Coaching 858 255 1132
team@fiacoaching.com

Legendary Entrepreneur Leads Disaster Relief Efforts for Ukrainian Refugees Through the Power of Coaching

Free Training Available for Volunteers

Sylvan’s founder, Berry Fowler, is donating Relief and Recovery Coach training to volunteers who will offer cost-free coaching to individuals and families displaced by the war.

SPOKANE, WA. (May 4, 2022) Fowler International Academy of Professional Coaching, a global leader in life coach training and certification since 2008, is offering free Disaster Relief and Recovery Coach training to people wishing to help individuals and families displaced by the war in Ukraine.

The training is available to anyone who has a genuine desire to help and is willing to promise to provide cost-free coaching to Ukrainians affected by the war. The Disaster Relief and Recovery Coach training is offered by Fowler International Academy as a self-directed online video course which is available 24/7. Most people report they can complete the course, which includes video lessons, a coach’s training manual and coaching tools and exercises, in about sixteen hours.

“We are looking for highly motivated volunteers who speak English and Ukrainian or Russian, and feel a calling to help,” explains Fowler International Academy’s chairman, Berry Fowler.

During the training, volunteer coaches learn how to coach clients to begin the process of releasing the negative effects of their individual and collective experiences and make plans for their future. Coaches acquire the knowledge and gain tools and techniques to provide support, motivation and encouragement while helping clients to take actions to regain control and move forward with their lives. By using apps like Zoom, Skype, and FaceTime, Fowler volunteers can provide their coaching to individuals and groups wherever they may be located.

“With millions of displaced Ukrainians living both outside and inside the country, the demand for our relief and recovery coaching services will be huge. However, I am confident we’ll be able to keep up because of our ‘coach some – teach some’ model,” declares Fowler. “We know from experience many of those who receive our coaching and see firsthand how truly effective and helpful it has been for themselves and their families, will want to become volunteer coaches as well.”

To apply for Fowler International Academy’s free Disaster Relief and Recovery Coach training, applicants must agree to the academy’s “Coaches Code of Ethics” and pledge to provide cost-free coaching to at least five individuals, families, or groups.

For more information about Fowler International’s Disaster Relief and Recovery Coach training for volunteers visit: <https://www.fiacoaching.com/ukraine>

###

Fowler International Academy of Professional Coaching was created by Berry Fowler, founder and former chairman of Sylvan Learning Centers. Over the past fourteen years, Fowler and his team have trained and certified over 9,000 professional coaches worldwide.